Stars4Media NEWS: supporting innovation and change in the news media industry
Come and hear about 14 innovative projects funded and coached by the Stars4Media NEWS programme (co-funded by the EU) and discover which of them will receive a Stars4Media award ! This will be followed by a discussion about supporting innovation and managing change in the news media industry and how to participate in our Stars4Media programmes.

Media Policy Forum
WAN-IFRA acts as a resource centre and knowledge-sharing platform for members as they navigate ongoing transformations in the regulation of news media and assess the impact on their businesses. This two-hour session will reflect on the main challenges brought by technology and the possible legislative answers to ensure the next decade of News Media Sustainability.
Free Post Congress Workshop on Constructive Journalism

Why not stay a little longer and join the independent Constructive Institute for a post Congress workshop on Thursday May 30th at Pressen, JP/Politikens Hus, in the heart of Copenhagen. What is Constructive Journalism? How does it work? And what is the impact for trust, news avoidance and bottom line? Editors from constructive newsrooms in Scandinavia, will share their experiences of changing mindset and editorial habits. You’ll hear about the new Constructive Institute Asia Pacific in Australia and dive into the findings of the Constructive Climate Explorer Project, where climate reporters from news media across the world have found best practice to cover the biggest story of our time and combat climate fatigue. The project partner is the Novo Nordisk CO2 Research Center at Aarhus, Tübingen and Stanford Universities.

ABOUT WAN-IFRA

WAN-IFRA is the World Association of News Publishers. Its roots go back to 1948 as a federation formed to fight for a free press worldwide. The association has 80 national association members representing 18,000 publications in 120 countries.

Our Mission

Our mission is to protect the rights of journalists and publishers across the world to operate free media, and provide our members with professional services to help their businesses prosper in a digital world and perform their crucial role in open societies.

WAN-IFRA focuses on the three fundamental areas that matter for the future of independent news publishing:

Press Freedom and Journalism
Protect the rights of journalists and publishers to operate free media.

Media Sustainability
Provide our members with access to sustainable innovation and professional services to help their businesses prosper.

Media Innovation
Bring the outside in, looking beyond what is already known. Connect our members to lighthouse innovation.

About our Partner

Danish Media Association represents 240 private media companies in Denmark, serving as a pillar of the country’s democratic framework. Their members, including newspapers, journals, magazines, radio, podcasts, and online media, deliver credible, diverse, and crucial information to communities nationwide. Committed to fostering an open society, we advocate for a strong, independent media landscape and work tirelessly to support its growth and impact.
